

Special help desk in city police stations for women in distress

FLO joins hands with Self Defence Unit of Delhi Police to empower women

L to R: Archana Garodia Gupta, Senior Vice President, FLO; Deepak Mishra, Special Commissioner of Police-Law & Order; Harjinder Kaur, Joint Treasurer & GB Member FLO; B S Bassi, Commissioner of Delhi Police; Neeta Boochra, President, FLO and Kiran Gera, Past President, FICCI.

Women and girls represent nearly half of the population. There can be no meaningful development without an active participation of half the population and this participation simply cannot take place if their security and safety is not assured.

Over the last few years, women's safety in Delhi and across the country has become a national priority. Despite all efforts at the policy and enforcement level, nothing has changed much on the ground. Even a random scan of leading dailies is enough to corroborate the fact. Women's safety is not just a women's issue. It involves concerted efforts from all.

Given this backdrop, FICCI Ladies Organisation under FLO President, Neeta Boochra together

Emergency Helpline & Mobile Apps

- Special women helpline number 1091
- Complaint against corrupt cops 1064
- Delhi Traffic Police Mobile app